The Michigan Central Refused to Run Trains

TO THE KENT TRACK RACES

As a Consequence the Whole Meeting Has Been Declared Off and the Horses Shipped Away.

Horsemen and race lovers alike are much surprised at the action of the Michigan Central in refusing to run trains to Kent park yesterday afternoon. Five races had been announced and the program was one that would attract attention at Washington park. Friday the horsemen having the races in charge obtained and offered the Central people the $150 guarantee that they demanded as a bonus. Yesterday afternoon the union depot was crowded with persons waiting for trains, and for two hours the crowd kept increasing. By a very reasonable estimate there would have been 2,500 people at the track if trains had been run. The railroad company would make no concessions to the horsemen and offer no explanation of its action in disappointing them at the eleventh hour. Everything is off now, and most of the horsemen skipped last night. The boys were very sore at the action of the Central, and all that possibly could be shipped by other roads. The grounds last night resembled the breaking up of a big circus. Jockeys rushed about loaded down with baggage, saddles and bridles, and the widest kind of confusion was the rule. Some of the most famous animals will be laid up to rest until they go back to Garfield, Hawthorn and Washington parks, where they were running before coming here. Others will go to Saratoga, Gutt-nburg, Clinton, Niagara Falls, Boston, St. Paul, Detroit and Long Branch. Lollie, Jack Lovell, Preston, B. Morgan, G. Adeline and Timberland will be shipped to St. Louis to start in the great 2-year-old race there. It will doubtless be many years before Grand Rapids sees such another field of runners within its gates.

IN THE NORTH LAND

Summer Life at the Pretty Northern Resorts

AROUND GRAND TRAVERSE BAY

Many Grand Rapids Persons Are Occupying Their Cottages or Are Guests at the Hotel.

TRAVERSE CITY, July 9.—Traverse City, surrounded by its green hills, and with the blue bay stretching away in front as far as the eye can see, was never as charming as it is this year. No wonder that the dwellers in other climes, weary of the incessant rains, are turning their steps in this direction, for here nature only smiles a little brighter for having her face washed.

Grand Rapids persons were among the first to make their summer home on the shores of beautiful Grand Traverse bay, and today Traverse City and Neah-ah-wanta, with their roomy hotels and cozy cottages, are a substantial fact, and have come to stay. Neah-ah-wanta hotel, under the able management of D. B. Mitchell of Albion, is now open for the season. A fine piano from Friedrich Bros. of Grand Rapids has just been put in, and gives a hint of merry dancing parties in days soon to come.

The cottages that have been closed for so many months are being opened again. James A. Hunt and C. A. Hilton of Grand Rapids have been at the resort with their families for a week or two. Dr. and Mrs. F. Merritt of Charlotte accompanied Mrs. Higby and Mrs. H. H. Dell of the same place arrived and opened their cottage Thursday. The Rev. Dr. Fluhrer has taken one of the Conklin cottages at the point for the summer, and he with Messrs. Corbin and Stover are expected with their families this week.

C. A. Hilton went to Grand Rapids Wednesday. James Blair, Jr., of Grand Rapids and E. E. White and V. A. Chapin of St. Johns were in the city Wednesday on their way to attend the Walker-Van Arsdale wedding at Old Mission.

Louie Baker returned to Grand Rapids Thursday after a month's visit with the family of his uncle, E. S. Pratt.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Crozier returned to Grand Rapids this week accompanied by Mrs. Crozier's sister, Miss Fida Harnden.

Alex Weston of Grand Rapids was a guest at Traverse Beach hotel this week.

Oscar Friedrich came up from Grand Rapids to spend the summer with his brother, Frank Friedrich.

Charles Fortis of Grand Rapids visited relatives in Solon, near here, the first of the week.

A number of Grand Rapids parties have been in the city this week, among those registering at the hotels being Messrs. B. A. Clary, Russell Wallace, C. H. Bass, Richard De Graaf and son, W. L. Stevenson, G. A. Christ, F. H. Grams, H. J. Richter, M. C. Burch, O. F. Coulkin, W. E. Le Vane, C. A. Hilton, Mr. and Mrs. E. Miller, V. A. Walin, W. L. Knox, F. G. Goodyear.

CLAIMS IT WAS REGULAR.

EDITOR HERALD.—The call for the eleventh ward caucus was for Friday evening, July 8, in the Republican hall at 7:30 p. m. At that hour William A. Clark, chairman of the ward committee, three other members of the committee and about a dozen others were congregated on the sidewalk near Oliver's drug store. Mr. Clark asked Mr. Burleigh, who carries a key to said White's hall and is janitor for the Republican club, if the caucus could be held in the hall. Mr. Burleigh replied that he had nothing to say. The Republican club meets regular, but he afterwards refused to open the hall before 8 o'clock. In the meantime Mr. Burleigh came and opened White's hall. Mr. Clark called on the gentlemen over to Graham's store to hold the caucus. All except a few went to Graham's store, where the meeting was called to order by William A. Clark, chairman of the ward committee. Fremont E. Skeels was then elected chairman of the caucus and John Scheffer secretary. A motion was unanimously adopted, sanctioning the selection of Graham's store. After William A. Clark and Frank J. Cook were appointed tellers, they were sworn in by E. A. Dwyer, a notary, and also the chairman and secretary. While the voters were gathered, Alderman Jacobs, who had been in the caucus and acted with us, went out, declaring that the caucus was a Tammany ring, and that the right place to hold the caucus was across the street, and that they were going there to elect delegates.

As an example, how little was thought of "ring" business, we can refer to the holding of three informal ballots because no candidate received enough votes to declare the informal ballot formal, which shows that everyone there was free in its choice of delegates.

If there is any faction there it must exist among the few who held a caucus in White's hall, after the regular caucus had already proceeded to business.

These are the facts in the case. Anybody may decide from these, that the regular caucus was held in William Graham's feed store.

H. W. LE SAGE, Tex. Brook, Member of Ward Committee.

F. E. Skeels also writes a letter substantially confirming the above.

NO LONGER SMILED AT.

A Grand Rapids dispatch to the Detroit Evening News states that the Pingree movement "is no longer smiled or sneered at" there, as was the case some time ago, and that the indications now point to a divided delegation from Kent county, though Rich may have a majority, whereas a short time since the idea of Pingree getting a delegate to the county was looked on as a joke by the over-confident Rich men.

The sentiment is changing from Rich to Pingree all over the state so steadily that it begins to be apparent that the state central committee knew what they were about when they had the convention called so early. An early convention is all that will save Rich if he is saved at all, of which there begins to be considerable doubt.—Marquette Mining Journal.

Ducks for the Navy.

The novel suggestion has been made that ducks should be trained and used for naval purposes in the same way that pigeons are used for conveying military messages. The proposal comes from Major Allist, a practical pigeon trainer, who says that if we are going to use birds to fly over water for naval purposes ducks would be better than pigeons, because when the duck gets tired it drops and sits on the water until it is rested and then goes on again. Ducks moreover, can fly by night, while pigeons cannot. Major Allist thinks that sea gulls might be trained also for message bearing purposes.—London Court Journal.

TRICKED THE DRUMMER.

The Clever Scheme of Some Maine Practical Jokers.

The town of Dexter, Me., boasts the hardest-hearted set of ways to be found anywhere. The most of them are constantly on the lookout for the subject of a practical joke, and hardly a day passes that they do not find one. The latest, related by the Lewiston Journal, is on the fresh cigar drummer who thought his merchandise better than anything of the sort on earth. In his travels he carries in his coat pocket a big cigar case and advertises himself and his goods by giving freely of his brands to any who will smoke them. He was in Dexter this week. The day was hot and he left his coat and cigar case on a chair while he sat in a cooling draught in the door. One of the jokers got a rubber comb and broke out twenty teeth. They were small and sharp. Into the end of each cigar a rubber tooth was pushed, and with a small nail the tooth was driven in out of sight. The tobacco leaf came together, completely hiding the tooth. Then the cigar man, now well cooled down, began business. Going into a store he gave away a cigar, which the intended customer began to smoke. Soon the air was odoriferous, not with a sweet and fragrant smell, but with one not unlike that of old gunlocks or burning rubber boots. The customer choked and threw away the weed, and said he had on hand cigars enough to last all summer. Another dealer had a similar experience. Still another was given a day's nausea, and when that drummer got through with his gifts he was hated by nearly every cigar dealer in town. He packed his goods in a box, and does not know to this day that an old rubber comb from the stable box of a hostler wrecked him commercially in Dexter.

A PIRATE'S POWER.

The Talented Latiffie and His Control Over His Men.

"I recently met a survivor of Pirate Latiffie's band of freebooters," said Thomas Haines, once a lieutenant in the United States navy, to a St. Louis Globe-Democrat reporter. "He was a tough-looking specimen and must have been well past eightieth years of age, for it is more than sixty years since Latiffie had his headquarters on Galveston island and preyed upon the commerce of the gulf. Of the relic of those half-forgotten times was an inmate of a Jersey City charitable institution and was not much inclined to discuss by-gones. He said, however, that Latiffie was a very handsome Frenchman, more than six feet in height, well made and possessed of wonderful talents as a commander. He ruled the toughest lot of men ever congregated on one island as though they were a flock of lambs. Occasionally a lawless spirit would rebel, however, but his days thenceforth were brief and full of trouble. Every woman who came in contact with Latiffie fell in love with him, and he was as safe among his female friends in New Orleans as on Galveston island surrounded by his armed buccanniers. According to this survivor, a prominent New Orleans lawyer once gave Latiffie offense and he made a pilgrimage to the city to kill him but changed his method of revenge and purchased his enemy's handsome young wife to elope with him. According to this ancient buccannier, several well-known people in south Texas and Louisiana are descendants of Latiffie's piratical crew and a few of his female companions are still living in that section.

A Texas Woman's Great Ranch.

Richard Harding Davis thus writes of a lady who runs a Texas ranch: "When ladies go to call on Mrs. Richard King, after they have reached the front gate they have to drive ten miles up the walk to the front door. But the baker, when he wants to get at the kitchen, must drive thirty miles from the back gate. Mrs. King lives on her ranch, forty-five miles south of Corpus Christi. Over her acres roam one hundred thousand head of cattle. These are attended by three hundred cowboys and twelve hundred ponies. When there comes an order from a Chicago butcher for one thousand head of cattle, it is but short work to round them up and send them on their way. Abraham, Isaac and Jacob would find this life ideally patriarchal. And none the less so by reason of the modern improvements of the home and house parties of this lady of large acres and many cattle."

Positions of the Body.

M. Noddy points out that the attitude of the body during work has a great influence on health. The sitting position congests the digestive organs; the bent position (like that of bootmakers) leads to cardiac affections. The standing position imposed on shop girls and women was productive of much suffering and disease, and should be forbidden those who serve in them.

WONDERFUL CURES!

Of the Famous Specialist.

NOTHING MEAN ABOUT US! RUPTURES ADVERTISING PHYSICIANS!

In the Detroit Free Press June 7, sixth page, under the head of "Distinguished Doctors," we see the names of the members of The American (Alopathic) Medical Association, who are meeting in that city, and the specialties in which they are engaged, and also the pictures of 28 of those who can afford it.

If this is their advertisement, and we think it is, we wish to congratulate the principal physicians among the Alopahs for their success as advertising physicians, and we feel sorrow for the common herd of Alopahic physicians who do not DARE to advertise. What does this meeting amount to, anyway? Is it anything more than a mutual admiration society and a free advertising scheme for its members? Will the rest of the Alopahic physicians call them "quacks" after this? We hope not, as the members of the American Medical Association have as much right to advertise as Dr. S. CLAY TODD, and we wish to congratulate them on their success as Advertising Physicians.

I had Consumption; was failing very rapidly, and got so discouraged I did not care whether I lived or died; coughed all the time; had short breath and palpitation of the heart; raised a great deal, and my family physician could not help me. Jan. 28th I went with my father to Dr. S. CLAY TODD, the famous specialist of Grand Rapids, and I am pleased to say I improved immediately on taking his medicine. When I began taking them I weighed 120 pounds, and it was all I could do to walk up stairs to Dr. TODD's office, I was so weak, now I weigh 160 pounds and feel as well as I ever did.
